Declaration of Conflict Minerals

Dear Customers,

we are currently receiving an increasing number of enquiries regarding the use of conflict minerals in relation to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Wall Street Reform Act) enacted in July 2010. This reform imposes documentation and disclosure obligations on companies using certain materials to ensure that no conflict minerals are used in their products.

With this letter, we would like to inform you as customers of GHM Messtechnik GmbH that we only use electronic parts and components from well-known manufacturers and trusted distributors in our products. However, as a manufacturer of end devices, we have no influence on the origin of minerals used by our suppliers. Therefore, we cannot assume any guarantee in this regard. We are committed to the traceability and transparency of our suppliers' products, and many manufacturers and distributors provide information on material quality and origin on their websites.

We have obtained the relevant information from our suppliers and, to our best knowledge, no conflict minerals are used by our suppliers.

We ourselves do not directly import minerals or so-called "conflict minerals" and therefore, according to our best knowledge, no conflict minerals are used in our products.

Please understand that we are unable to fill out special questionnaires due to the very high number of enquiries.

However, we hope that this letter contains the information you requested and thank you for your trust and the good cooperation.
